Taxes
The buyback of registered shares Castle Private Equity AG by means of the issue of put options for the purpose of a capital reduction is being treated as a partial liquidation of Castle Private Equity AG. This essentially has the following tax consequences with respect to Swiss withholding tax, direct federal tax for persons with unlimited tax liability in Switzerland and Swiss stamp duty tax:
1. Swiss withholding tax
Castle Private Equity AG is obliged to deduct Swiss withholding tax at a rate of 35% on the difference between the redemption price and the nominal value of the registered shares Castle Private Equity AG in favour of the Federal Tax Administration. Persons resident in Switzerland are entitled to reclaim the withholding tax if they are beneficial owners of the registered shares Castle Private Equity AG at the time of the redemption (Art. 21 Abs. 1 lit. a Federal Act on Withholding Tax). This does not apply to cases of tax avoidance according to the practice of the Federal Tax Administration. Persons domiciled abroad may reclaim the withholding tax in accordance with any double taxation agreements.
2. Direct federal tax
2.1 For persons with unlimited tax liability in Switzerland The following explanations relate to direct federal taxes. As a rule, the same practice applies to cantonal and municipal taxes as to direct federal taxes. a) Put options and registered shares Castle Private Equity AG held in private assets: Allocation and any proceeds from the sale of put options are not subject to direct federal tax. The sale of registered shares Castle Private Equity AG to the issuer in relation with the exercise of put options results in taxable income in the amount of the difference between the redemption price and the nominal value of the registered shares Castle Private Equity AG (nominal value principle). b) Put options and registered shares Castle Private Equity AG held in business assets: The tax treatment of the receipt of put options depends on the accounting treatment. Capital gains from the sale of put options are subject to income tax. The positive difference between the redemption price and the book value of registered shares Castle Private Equity AG arising from sale to the issuer constitutes taxable profit (book value principle). Corporations and cooperatives may claim participation reduction under certain circumstances.
2.2 For persons with unlimited tax liability outside Switzerland Shareholders resident outside Switzerland should consult the corresponding local provisions with respect to tax consequences.

3. Fees and levies
The issuing and trading of put options are free of stamp duty. The buyback of own shares for the purposes of capital reduction is also exempt from stamp duty. However, a fee may be charged by SIX Swiss Exchange.

The tax ruling obtained and in particular the disclosures under 2 above are of a general nature and reflect the tax treatment for shareholders domiciled in Switzerland. As Castle Private Equity does not have information about the specific situation of individual investors, shareholders are advised to clarify their specific situation with their own legal, financial or tax adviser.

Sales restrictions
In particular, the United States/ US persons, the EEA and the United Kingdom.

Neither the put options nor the registered shares of Castle Private Equity AG will be offered for public sale outside Switzerland, and they may only be offered, sold, purchased or delivered, whether directly or indirectly, in, to or from countries other than Switzerland in accordance with the respectively applicable laws and regulations.

Applicable law and place of jurisdiction
Swiss law. The exclusive place of jurisdiction is Zurich.
